Justice for My People: The Dr. Hector P. Garcia Story. Color. 90 mins. CC Home. G. (Narrated: English). Video Released Nov. 2002. Created by KEDT-TV Staff. Music by Stephen Arnold Group Staff. Narrated by Bruce Dubose. Produced by Jeff Felts. Justice for my People tells the story of Dr. Hector P. Garcia, Mexican Revolution refugee, medical doctor to the barrios, decorated war veteran, civil rights activist and presidential confidante- as he fought to bring attention to the Mexican American civil rights movement. Returning to Texas with six battle stars, Garcia found that while Mexican American veterans had been changed by the war, prejudiced America had not. His people faced public school segregation, squalid living conditions in labor camps, and second class citizenship. In 1948, Dr. Garcia founded the American GI Forum, empowering Mexican Americans to fight numerous legal and political battles against discrimination. As he championed the rights of Mexican Americans, his life would be threatened. He would overcome personal tragedy. He would refuse to be thwarted by political setbacks and disappointments. Instead, he chose to peacefully resist prejudice by building his life and work on the foundation of the principles of the United States Declaration of Independence and the Constitution.Justice for my People provides interviews with men and women who worked with Garcia during those crucial years. Archival film and photos blended with Garcia?s own voice provide memorable insights into his life and character.DVD contains exclusive additional material not available on the broadcast or VHS version. Additional material includes: extra interview clips, speeches by Garcia, a look at the Dr. Hector P. Garcia archive, and features on the making of the documentary.For more on the life of Dr. Hector P. Garcia go to www.JusticeformyPeople.org. South Texas Public Broadcasting, Inc. DVD. Kagero-za. (1981). Color. (Japanese, Subtitled: English). Video Released Mar. 2006. Featuring Katsuo Nakamura, Mariko Kaga, Yusaku Matsuda, Yoshio Harada, Michiyo Ohkusu. Based on a story by Kyoka Izumi - whose writings influenced a number of playwrights and filmmakers - Kagero-za is another wildly inventive installment in the jump-cut, luridly hued, crazy-quilt pantheon of Seijun Suzuki. The fever-dream follow-up to his acclaimed Zigeunerweisen, the enigmatically erotic Kagero-za is the second film in Suzuki's Taisho Trilogy. This time, the story is set in the disjointed cityscapes and surrounding countryside of 1926 Tokyo. Playwright Matsuzaki (Yusaku Matsuda), who is supported by a wealthy patron, crosses paths with a beautiful woman on her way to a hospital. She tells him that a friend is dying, then implores Matsuzaki to accompany her because she is frightened of a mysterious older woman at the hospital who sells the fruit of the Chinese Lantern Plant, which is strangely rumored to actually be female souls. Matsuzaki at first refuses the beautiful woman's invitation, but later finds himself so obsessed with her - a luminous apparition - that he wants nothing more than a life of carnality and excessive passion. Matsuzaki eventually follows a trail of messages left by this phantasmal enchantress across the country to Kanazawa, only to realize that he is possibly being lured to his own demise. Kino on Video. DVD. (UPC: 6 9845220353 9) $29.95.

Kamikaze Taxi. Color. 169 mins mins. Age: 17-UP. NR. (Dubbed: Japanese. Subtitled: English). Video Released Oct. 2004. Directed by Masato Harada. Screenplay by Masato Harada. Tatsuo a young foot soldier in the yakuza seeks revenge when his prostitute girlfriend dies after a session with a high-ranking Japanese senator with a taste for torture. He sets out on a 'kamikaze' mission to kill his bosses and the politician; along the way, he acquires the aid of a taxi driver Kantake, who has recently returned to Japan after living in South America for several decades and is struggling to cope with poverty and the prejudices of native-born Japanese. The two form an unlikely bond, and eventually take on father-son roles. Kantake proves to be an invaluable ally in Tatsuo?s quest to take out the mob and the senator and everyone else who gets in his way. ?Kamikaze Taxi is remarkably frank and open criticism of the less wholesome aspects of Japan.?One highly recommended piece of cinema.NIXFLIX.COMThe movie is, at its core, a microscope on the Japanese establishment. Kamikaze Taxi is a violent film.definitely not something you?ve seen before in your ?normal Japanese film? and that?s the point. ?Midnighteye.com. Media Blasters, Inc. (Tokyo Shock). DVD. Karate Kids. (1990). Animated Films. 21 mins. (J). Age: 6-11. (gr. 1-6). Directed by Derek Lamb. When we want to communicate health risks to other cultures, we need to keep in mind their cultural differences. How does one communicate health risks to Third World children who are homeless & live on the street? Facts & statistics do not work; the children are often illiterate. "Karate Kids" is an example of an effective way of reaching these children. It overcomes language barriers by presenting the message - in this case, AIDS prevention - in an adventure cartoon format. "Karate Kids" serves as an example of how we need to keep cultural differences in mind; it has proven to be a breakthrough not only with children but also with hard-to-reach adults. The Karloff Collection: Cult of the Dead. Color. 71 mins. NR. Contribution by Boris Karloff. Zombies rise from their graves to feast on human flesh. Boris Karloff is Karl Von Molder, a plantation owner studying demonic voodoo rituals for his own diabolical use. When Molder's experiments are interrupted by Captain Labeesh, a French police captain intent on enforcing law and order, the mysterious cult leader, Damballa, sends his zombies forward to decimate Labeesh's forces. Rhino Home Video. VHS. (Order #: R3 972752) $9.95.

The Karloff Collection: Dance of Death. Color. 72 mins. NR. Contribution by Boris Karloff. Mathias (Boris Karloff) lures his greedy relatives together one last time with promises of wealth upon his impending death. When Mathias finally dies, it's all any of them can do to refrain from snatching the will from his still-warm hand. Things aren't that easy, though, as the family business giant mechanical toys come to life swinging axes and firing deadly canons. It seems the Mortval bloodline may end up splattered on every wall!. Rhino Home Video. VHS. (Order #: R3 972754) $9.95.

The Karloff Collection: Destination Nightmare. B&W. 50 mins. NR. Contribution by Boris Karloff. Episode 1 A troubled woman's disappearance leads John Prescott on a search that may drive him mad. At every turn, his questions as to her whereabouts go unanswered, but one name keep coming up Morgan Debs. When Prescott finally confronts the man, Morgan Debs, the story seems unbelievable. Episode 2 After a hard day at work, spindly Mr. Page wants only to sit down and relax, but instead what he gets is a view of a woman's shocking murder from his own kitchen window. When the police arrive, they break down her door only to discover that the apartment is vacant. Rhino Home Video. VHS. (Order #: R3 972756) $9.95.

The Karloff Collection: Jack the Ripper. B&W. 75 mins. NR. Contribution by Boris Karloff. Episode 1 Emma Hainey wants nothing more than to live out her life on the family farm. When Emma's husband dies, her long-lost son Jamie arrives to contest his older brother, John Jr.'s claim as sole heir. Episode 2 Sea Captain John Elwood (Boris Karloff) would rather spend time spinning stories with his crewmates than with his lonely wife, Ruth. Outraged, she approaches him at an officer's club, overturning a table in frustration. Episode 3 Clairvoyant George Durst has witnessed the legendary White Chapel murders of Jack The Ripper. Rhino Home Video. VHS. (Order #: R3 972758) $9.95.

Kaze, Ghost Warrior. Color. 23 mins. CC Age: 10-UP. Home. NR. Video Released Jun. 2004. Author Timothy Albee. Many years ago, there was a peace of a different nature than we have now across these lands. As difficult as it may seem to imagine now, this was a peace, not of fear and retribution, but a peace borne of understanding and a truly compassionate Ruling Family. This Family had ruled our lands for hundreds of years with the strengths of wisdom, foresight and justice.In the none-too-distant past, a plan was uncovered to overthrow the Royal Family, and despite the best efforts of the Imperial Armies and Elite Guard, one by one, the members of the Royal Family fell. The gentle and much adored 'Bay was the last to disappear, in love with a young Captain in the House-Guard, Kaze.As tensions mounted, whispered rumors flew. The men who were killing our country had help on the inside.A daring, surprise attack by the remaining loyalists to the Imperial Lineage exposed and routed the men behind the plot, revealing Kaze as one of the primary leaders behind the failed coup attempt. He was slain upon discovery.'Bay's body was never found.And now, many summers and winters since those fateful events, when the moon is full, if you stand on the shores of the Kitsune River, and whisper 'Bay's name to the wind, you will see a shape moving through the trees on the far shore, and it is said that Kaze walks these lands again. Key Changes. (1993). Performing Arts-Biography. People With Disabilities. Color. 28 mins. Lisa Thorson. This new documentary profiles Lisa Thorson, a gifted vocalist who uses a wheelchair. Ms. Thorson defines herself as a performer first, a person with a disability second, & this thoughtful portrait respects that distinction. Her work as a jazz singer is at the heart of the film, reflecting her philosophy that the biggest contribution that she can make to the struggle for the rights of people with disabilities "is doing (her) art the best way that (she) can." The video artfully weaves footage of Thorson's performances with interviews which allow the singer to tell her story. Fanlight Productions. VHS. Kicking with Trophyman: TrophyMan Soccer. Color. 80 mins. Public performance. Video Released Jul. 2002. Created by Tom Guleff. Produced by Gregory Grey. Executive Producer Tom Guleff. Most people haven?t seen a trophy come to life, and we had our doubts, too. But who best to help guide a child through the basics of any sport. Although, it wasn?t easy getting Fred P. TrophyMan to work with the camera, he did it. Fred?s video series is designed to teach children the values of sportsmanship, teamwork, honesty, etc. along with the fundamentals of sports. Kicking with TrophyMan covers everything from dribbling to trapping. The video series highlights a cast of characters that centers on a six inch gold character named Fred P. TrophyMan. The gold figure is really a sports trophy that comes to life to help in the development of the small athlete. Although the sports activity takes center stage, the viewer learns a few lessons along the way. This is a non-animated children?s video with a positive ?fun? message. The format of each video is simple and straightforward. The storyline is consistent from episode to episode for familiarity. Each episode is separated into two distinct segments. The first 20-24 minutes focuses on the interaction of Fred P. TrophyMan and a young person in a real-life situation. The story is both compelling and entertaining. The second portion (40-50 minutes) focuses on the actual development of skills by centering on practice, techniques, and drills participation that can be done in the backyard. Sports Learning Co. The Kinetic Karnival of Jearl Walker No. 1: Forces & Collisions. (1981). Science-General. 30 mins. (YA). Age: 15-17. (gr. 10-12). Group, Broadcast. Featuring Jearl Walker. Walker explains how people survive long falls. Dressed as a Samurai warrior, he shows how collisions with large momentum & short collision times can break tricks. More risky is his demonstration of force & stress in which he is sandwiched between two beds of nails while people stand on top. Then, he combines the physics of collisions & that of stress by having an assistant smash a concrete block on top of the sandwich. Univ. of Nebraska-Lincoln, GPN. VHS. $49.95; pap., tchr. ed. $1.50.

The Kinetic Karnival of Jearl Walker No. 2: Rotation. (1981). Science-General. 30 mins. (YA). Age: 15-17. (gr. 10-12). Group, Broadcast. Featuring Jearl Walker. Shot primarily on location at Geauga Lake Amusement Park & a playground, this show displays the basic elements of rotational mechanics found in many common rides. Walker rides the "rotor" to investigate centrifugal force. At the playground he introduces torques & angular momentum. The physics of judo & aikido is brought out with a few throws by a judo expert. Univ. of Nebraska-Lincoln, GPN. VHS. $49.95; pap., tchr. ed. $1.50.

Does water drain in a counterclockwise sense from a bathtub? Walker investigates this & also circulation cells in a fluid heated from the bottom. He demonstrates why fluid poured from a bottle often runs back along the bottle's neck. To study the nature of friction (both static & dynamic) he pulls a tablecloth from beneath a set of dishes & hangs a spoon from his nose. Univ. of Nebraska-Lincoln, GPN. VHS. $49.95; pap., tchr. ed. $1.50.

The Kinetic Karnival of Jearl Walker No. 4: Viscosity. (1981). Science-General. 30 mins. (YA). Age: 15-17. (gr. 10-12). Group, Broadcast. Featuring Jearl Walker. The nature of viscosity is explored with common fluids. Walker explains the rope-coiling of falling streams having high viscosity & explores the physics of glass blowing. Newfonian & non-newfonian fluids are distinguished so as to demonstrate how one should escape from quicksand. To convince a viewer of the rapid changes in the viscosity of some types of fluids. Walker performs several experiments with Slime & Silly Putty & then leaps into a tub of fluid corn starch. Univ. of Nebraska-Lincoln, GPN. VHS. $49.95; pap., tchr. ed. $1.50.

The Kinetic Karnival of Jearl Walker No. 5: The Leidenfrost Effect. (1981). Science-General. 30 mins. (YA). Age: 15-17. (gr. 10-12). Group, Broadcast. Featuring Jearl Walker. The basic demonstration of the Leidenfrost effect is presented: a water drop lasts about one second that is at a temperature of 150C but up to 1.5 minutes when the skillet is hotter than 200C. The radiation & conduction of heat through a vapor layer is discussed. Univ. of Nebraska-Lincoln, GPN. VHS. $49.95; pap., tchr. ed. $1.50.

The Kinetic Karnival of Jearl Walker No. 6: The Science of Cooking. (1981). Science-General. 30 mins. (YA). Age: 15-17. (gr. 10-12). Group, Broadcast. Featuring Jearl Walker. Walker reveals the physics & chemistry behind Bearnaise sauce, lemon meringue pie, Polynesian pork (where fresh pineapple juice tenderizes the pork by an enzyme reaction) & Jello-O. He also discloses the advantages of a heat pipe in speeding the cooking of a large piece of meat. Univ. of Nebraska-Lincoln, GPN. VHS. $49.95; pap., tchr. ed. $1.50.

Kon Tiki. 124 mins. Video Released Mar. 2006. This is the classic Academy-Award winning documentary film of an astonishing adventure, a journey spanning 4,300 nautical miles across the Pacific Ocean by raft. Intrigued by Polynesian folklore, Norwegian biologist Thor Heyerdahl suspected that the South Sea Islands had been settled by an ancient race from thousands of miles to the east, led by the mythical hero Kon-Tiki. Heyerdahl knew that the trade winds and ocean currents off the South-American coastline bear in the direction of Polynesia. Ridiculed by the scientific establishment, who had concluded that a voyage by aboriginal balsa raft from Peru to Polynesia was impossible, he decided to prove the possibility of his theory by duplicating the legendary voyage. The ensuing expedition was hailed as one of the most fantastic feats of daring and courage of its time.On April 28, 1947, Heyerdahl and his five crew members embarked from Peru on their daring voyage to the Marquesas Islands, on a balsa wood raft which was built according to the traditions of South America's pre-Columbian Indians. After 101 suspenseful days on the open sea, alone amid raging storms, whales, and countless sharks, they landed on the Polynesian island of Raroia.The expedition attracted worldwide interest. Heyerdahl's book Kon-Tiki was translated into 67 languages, and sold more than 20 million copies. Heyerdahl had been presented with a film camera before the journey began, and both the building of the raft and the voyage across the Pacific were filmed in detail. In 1952, his fascinating black and white film was awarded an Oscar for the most outstanding documentary. The film subsequentiy enthralled cinema-goers all over the world. The raft is now exhibited at the Kon-Tiki Museum in Oslo, Norway, where it is seen by hundreds of thousands of tourists every year. Janson Media. DVD. Last Supper. Color. 60 mins. mins. Video Released May 2004. SPECIAL FEATURES:-View in Engiish or Spanish-Includes recipe booklet in pdf formatFilmed and dramatized entirely on authentic locations of the Holy Land and the Middle East, this is the most elaborate and extensive film ever made on the Last Supper. Jesus met with his twelve disciples in the ?upper room? in Jerusalem, where they shared that historic meal. It was the traditional Jewish Passover ?Seder? meal, which to this day symbolizes the deliverance from slavery to freedom and is commemorated for the last supper the ancient Hebrews shared before leaving Egypt, on their long journey to the Promised Land.The Last Supper emphasizes both its Christian tradition and Jewish roots. In addition to the authoritative historical and cultural background, the program explores the recipes of the exotic Biblical courses served at the supper: bread, salads, herbs, olive dish, lamb, wine, fruit, and all other magnificent courses. A recipe booklet with authentic Biblical recipes for the meal is included in pdf format.ATRACCIONES ESPECIALES:-Ver en ingles y espa?ol-Incluye un libro de recetas en formato pdfLa Ultima Cena fue filmada en la misma localidad de la Tierra Santa. Jesus se junto con sus doce discipulos en el "cuarto superior" en Jerusalen, donde compartieron esa comida historica. Era la comida judia tradicional de "Seder" del passover, que a este dia simboliza la liberacion de la esclavitud a la libertad y se conmemora para la ultima cena que los hebreos antiguos compartieron antes de salir de Egipto, en su viaje largo a la Tierra Prometida.El programa enfatiza tanto la tradicion cristiana como las raices judias de La Santa Cena y el significado de cada plato: pan, ensaladas, hierbas, plato de oliva, cordero, vino, fruta, y el resto de los platos magnificos. Incluye recetas para cada plato de esta cena en formato pdf. Vision Video. DVD. (ISBN: 978-1-56364-811-3(3), UPC: 727985006970) $19.99.

Launching Literacy Stations: Mini-Lessons for Managing & Sustaining Independent Work, K-3, 3 videocassetes. Color. 90 min mins. (C). (gr. k-3). Video Released Jan. 2006. Author Debbie Diller. Literacy work stations are being embraced in many elementary schools as a way to ensure students of all ages are completing thoughtful, challenging tasks while their teachers meet with small groups of students. Debbie Diller, author of the book Literacy Work Stations, takes you into two primary classrooms to demonstrate how to create a thriving stations program. Patty Terry's first grade students and Vicky Georgas' second graders work in stations that include a wealth of literacy tasks designed to build academic and collaborative skills across the curriculum. This three-part video series captures the teaching conversations Patty, Vicky, and Debbie have with their students in real-time as new stations are introduced, problems with existing stations are analyzed, and the match between station tasks and student needs are assessed.Program 1: Launching StationsDebbie explains the basic principles, and then launches work stations in two classrooms?the drama station in first grade, and the science station in second grade.Program 2: Managing StationsThis program provides examples of the nitty gritty issues that emerge with work stations, and how they are handled by teachers.Program 3: Sustaining StationsEnsuring students have interesting, engaging materials in stations and can work independently in them is an ongoing challenge for teachers. Liberia: The Promised Land. Africa. African American History. 40 mins. Group. Contribution by Journeyman Pictures. Featuring Samuel Doe, William Tolbert, Steve Johnson. Narrated by Richard Tolbert. In the 19th century, black Americans dreamed of an utopian African homeland in Liberia. The American establishment, fearful of the emergence of a free black class, encouraged this dream. None of the former slaves who sailed there so eagerly could have foreseen the anarchy that would tragically engulf their new homeland. Period photographs & films show how these former black Americans developed a luxurious life style, which came to be despised by the impoverished local African. Shows the sad & savage state into which the country has fallen, with a narration by the son of the slain President. America's role cannot be underestimated. Filmakers Library. The Liberty Bell Speaks. History, American. 6 mins. The Liberty Bell, now located in Independence Hall, Philadelphia is the best known bell in the world. It was commissioned by the subjects of the British Crown who lived in Philadelphia to let people know when to gather in the town square to hear important news. It cracked the first time it was tested by the colonists. The bell was recast & used although it never sounded quite right. The bell became a symbol of independence, liberty & freedom because of the important occasions on which it rang. In 1776, when 56 remarkable men drafted The Declaration of Independence, the bell was heard. The inscription on the bell only confirms its status as it reads: "Proclaim Liberty Throughout the Land Unto All the Inhabitants Thereof.". Carousel Film & Video. VHS. $75.00.

Life in the City Habitat. (1991). Science-Environmental Studies. Color. 14 mins. (Life Habitat Video Ser.: Vol. 5). (J). Age: 5-8. (gr. k-3). G. Made-for-Video. Mark Twain Elementary School Class, Jim Deken. Directed by Herb Halpern. Contribution by Jerry Smith, Missouri Botanical Garden Staff. Produced in cooperation with the Missouri Botanical Garden. While cities & towns were built for people to live in, a number of other organisms have come to share their space. Some, like cats, dogs, squirrels, trees, shrubs & other plants are easy to find & observe. But many others, such as falcons, nighthawks, chimney swifts & bats live in the city also, but you have to know where to look. In this video our energetic eight-year-olds & their guide, Jim, explore the business, industrial & residential areas of a typical city. They discover organisms that have adapted to life in the city, & learn how these creatures survive in a habitat originally built for people. (Teaching music to tune of Frere Jacques). MBG Learning Network. VHS. (ISBN: 978-1-881034-05-6(4)) $37.50.

Life of the Bighorn Sheep. Animals. Color. 17 mins. Group, CCircuit. Two Rocky Mountain Bighorn Sheep rams begin a head butting contest in a test of dominance & before long two other rams join this test of strength, a most unusual scene to highlight this film. With magnificent settings in the beautiful Rocky Mountains you witness a new born lamb & then several lambs bobbing like springs as they frolic in the meadows. Although winter brings beauty it brings hardships for the sheep - snow covers their food supply, temperatures drop to extreme lows - you will see how the sheep adapt. Coyotes, eagles, & bears play parts in the sheep's lives as predators but sheep have lived for thousands of years with natural predators, each adjusting to the other. Today problems face the sheep, humans illegally poach them, & use their range to graze domestic live stock. Will we be able to strike a balance so each can survive or will they soon become an endangered species?. Berlet Films & Video. Linear Algebra Lecture Series: Gaussian Elimination I. (C). Age: 17. Video Released Jan. 2003. Author Archie William Earl, Sr. Produced by Archie William Earl, Sr. International Educational Improvement Ctr. Pr. (IEIC Pr.). VHS. (ISBN: 978-1-884169-81-6(3)) $24.95.

Linear Algebra Lecture Series: Gaussian Elimination Method II. (C). Age: 17. Home. Video Released Jan. 2003. Author Archie William Earl, Sr. Produced by Archie William Earl, Sr. This is a linear algebra instructional video tape. It covers the Gaussian Elimination Method II. Gaussian Elimination Method II is taught by using examples. International Educational Improvement Ctr. Pr. (IEIC Pr.). VHS. (ISBN: 978-1-884169-82-3(1)) $24.95.

Linear Algebra Lecture Series: Matrix Inversion. (C). Home. Video Released Jan. 2003. Author Archie William Earl, Sr. This is an instructional video. It covers matrix inversion. Students are shown, by example, how to invert a matrix. International Educational Improvement Ctr. Pr. (IEIC Pr.). VHS. (ISBN: 978-1-884169-87-8(2)) $24.95.

Linear Algebra Lecture Series: Reduced Echelon Method. (C). Home. Video Released Jan. 2003. Author Archie William Earl, Sr. This is an instructional video tape. It covers solving a system of linear equations by using the reduced echelon method. International Educational Improvement Ctr. Pr. (IEIC Pr.). VHS. (ISBN: 978-1-884169-86-1(4)) $24.95.

Linear & Non-Linear Optimization. (1998). Technology. 1500 mins. Contribution by Stanford University Staff. Instructed by Ross D. Shachter. Fundamental concepts in theory & modeling. Role of prices, duality & problem structure in finding & recognizing solutions. Perspectives: problem formulation, analytical theory & computational methods. Theory: finite dimensional derivatives, convexity, optimality, duality & sensitivity. Methods: simplex & variations, gradient, Newton, penalty & barrier. Lecture Notes included. Assn. for Media-Based Continuing Education for Engineers. VHS, pap. $6500.00, Rental 3000.00.

Linear & Non-Linear Optimization: Stanford University. (1998). Technology. 1500 mins. Contribution by Ross D. Shachter. Fundamental concepts of theory & modeling. Assn. for Media-Based Continuing Education for Engineers. VHS. Rental 3000.00 VHS.;.

Linear & Non-Linear Systems. (1992). Mathematics-Algebra. Mathematics-Trigonometry. Color. 30 mins. (Algebra & Trigonometry Ser.). Age: 14-UP. (gr. 9 up). Made-for-Video. Phoenix Films & Video. VHS. (ISBN: 978-0-7919-8110-8(X), Order #: 74023) $225.00.

Linear Equations & Graphs I, 4 cass. Mathematics-Trigonometry. 30 mins. Age: 12-UP. (gr. 7 up). Introduction to graphing; graphing linear equations with two variables, graphing equations for horizontal & vertical lines. Film Ideas, Inc. VHS. $125.00.

Linear Equations & Their Graphs, Pt. 1. (Math Ser.). (YA). Age: 12-14. (gr. 7-9). Benchmark Media. VHS, pap., instr.'s gde. ed. $295.00.

Linking Conscious Business Practices to Bottom Line. (1999). Business Training And Management. Psychology. Color. 90 mins. (Business & Consciousness Ser.). Made-for-Video. Video Released Feb. 1999. Brenda Rarcy. Business has traditionally measured the bottom line in two ways - the quantity of gross profit & the quantity of net profit. We know that a company's success depends not only on the quantity of its profits, but a myriad of other factors as well. New measurement systems are in demand as true business performance measurements expand to include nontraditional or "invisible" factors. We will discuss & learn how to quantify various conscious business practices & include them in a comprehensive measurement system. Viewers will be informed & will have the ability to access some aspect of their own company's true bottom line. Message Co., The. VHS. (ISBN: 978-1-57282-084-5(5)) $24.95.

Living Free. 31 mins. CC Video Released Jun. 2006. Produced by Community Connections for Ohio Offenders. Today?s world has its challenges. We now live in a global economy and the Internet has gone from a novelty to an everyday necessity. For most of us, the faster pace is something we?ve adjusted to and may take for granted. However, if you?ve been in prison for the past few years, you may feel as though the world has passed you by.Life for the ex-offender can be a challenge. Every day tasks that are difficult for the non-offender may be doubly tough for someone just getting out of prison. There are many obstacles to overcome and, as an ex-offender, you may think that becoming successful is nothing more than a dream. You?re wrong.In this program, viewers will meet four ex-offenders who have made great strides in their personal lives. These individuals share their stories on their first experiences after release, overcoming barriers such as transportation and finding employment, and how to deal with the pressures of society. They also talk about the importance of developing positive relationships and the role family can play in their lives. In addition, viewers drop in on a group discussion of ex-offenders and hear some of the things they?ve done to turn their lives around. These stories will help viewers better understand what truly awaits them after their incarceration, and what they can do to stay out of prison and ?live free.?. JIST Publishing (JIST Works). VHS.
